1978 Editorial Index

TEST SYSTEMS
Ufology and the digital computer — Jan p12
Product test routine for minicomputers — Feb p12

AUTOMATIC TEST AND INSPECTION
Black boxes wrapped up faster with ATS — Mar p26
100% test is best — Apr p40
Hybrid circuit testing with table-driven software — May p36
Automatic burn-in . . . a key step in testing — June p24
Wescom Inc.—a study in telecommunications quality — Aug p28
ATE—super technician to sophisticated production aid — Sept p38
TOKAMAK—our ultimate energy source? — Oct p26
In-circuit test techniques reduce programming requirements — Nov p40
Microprocessor-based test stations — Dec p28

RELIABILITY ENGINEERING
Hand soldering . . . a look ahead — Jan p20
Measuring the PCB coating, Part I — Mar p12
Universal sample plan — Mar p23
Expose losses with quality costs — May p32
[illegible]s random vibration? — June p10
[illegible]its of calibration — Aug p36
Reliability test analysis using a pocket-size programmable calculator — Sept p10
Fracture-critical testing for mission critical parts — Sept p20
Reliability improvement by profit incentive — Nov p22
Don't zap it—bag it — Dec p20

INSPECTION
Laser aids dimensional inspection — Jan p24
Improved penetrant performance — Jan p29
A call brings help — Feb p28
In-motion radiography speeds up tank weld inspection — Mar p16
Always room for fixture improvement — Mar p25
Now it can be told — Apr p12
Measuring the PCB coating, Part II — Apr p18
Tubing integrity verified with eddy current — Sept p24
A better way to look at it — Sept p27
Visual inspection and fiber optics — Nov p10
Measurement uncertainty allowance — Nov p32
Improved NDT system boosts production efficiency — Nov p35
Steel wheel maker tests hardness 100 percent — Nov p37
Safety from the ground up — Dec p10
Automatic test equipment, communications and fiber optics — Dec p12
The layout machine in quality control — Dec p17

MANAGEMENT
Product liability . . . reducing the risk — Jan p32
No miracle—just good management — Feb p22
Lucid labeling lessens liability — Feb p18
The castle complex — Mar p20
The price is not the cost — Apr p25
Is your job killing you? — May p16
[illegible]g another look at product liability — June p14
[illegible]screw machine operations, Part II — Sept p16
The hidden sales force — Nov p16
Flow chart technique organizes work flow — Dec p24

PROCUREMENT
Vendor evaluation checklist set #3 — Jan p35

Q.C. IN MANUFACTURING
Automatic DIP insertion—boon or bane? — Apr p34
Quality from (and for) the heart — Apr p38
Portal to portal product protection — May p12
Leak detection can be a high speed automatic operation — May p22
Q.A. in screw machine operations — June p20
Product pride perpetuates quality — Oct p8
AMC-Jeep's Launch Team concept helps assure smooth sailing — Oct p20

SPECIAL FEATURE
American Society for Quality Control Inspection, Testing & Quality Assurance Show preview — Apr p28
Seminar on GMP by regulation — June p18
Instrument makers tour Communist Europe — Aug p12
International Machine Tool Show 1978 — Aug p18
ASNT Quality Testing Show — Sept p30
ATEX East 78: an ATE conference and exhibition debut — Sept p37
QUALITY's annual salary survey — Oct p12

BASIC TRAINING REVIEW
Thermocouple reference junction principles — Jan p37
Infrared theory — Jan p38
Guidelines to ferrous forging design: Webs and ribs — Feb p35
Reading circuit diagrams — Feb p36
Thermoplastic guide — Mar p33
Solving the chronic quality problem — Mar p34
Measuring way alignment — Apr p49
Keeping it simple — Apr p50
AOQL: A quick reference — May p43
Economics of a burn-in system — May p44
What is die casting? — June p29
Some hints on visual examination — June p30
A quality/quantity index — Aug p33
Ultrasonic waves — Sept p45
Formula for thread size before plating — Sept p48
High voltage power supply loading methods — Oct p31
100% inspection—a sign of trouble — Nov p45
Are you implementing a change? — Dec p31

EDITORIAL COMMENT
Breakthroughs will require follow-through — Jan p5
It takes a little of each — Feb p5
Covering your rear . . . not that complicated — Mar p5
New games—new rules — Apr p5
For quality's sake . . . stand up — May p5
Another country heard from — June p5
Measure and test, yes . . . but that's not the end — July p5
Yours and yours alone — Aug p5
The silent one — Sept p4
Quality welcomes PMA — Oct p5
Leaks on top — Nov p5

INSTRUMENTATION SCOUTING REPORT

NASA Tech Brief—Lewis Research Center Jan p41
Quality control gaging systems Jan p45
Digital hardness tester Feb p39
Finding the critical contour Feb p41
Statistical analyzer Mar p37
Internal supermicrometer Mar p38
Multi-purpose ultrasonic digital thickness gauge Mar p39
Universal digital gage Apr p53
Microprocessor controlled DVM's Apr p54
Surface measurement system May p47
Coating thickness gage May p48
New CMM systems May p51
Infrared detection instruments May p52
Custom gage control June p33
CNC inspection system June p34
Measuring temperature Aug p39
Building blocks for test engineers Aug p40
Two in one ATE Sept p53
The oscillating disc rheometer Sept p54
A digital solution to ultrasonic testing Sept p57
Automatic inspection for automotive crankshaft Oct p33
Leak detector aids in brake development Nov p47
Production line package weigher and computer control Nov p48
New LSI testers Dec p34
Microwave system design and testing Dec p36
Visual inspection system Dec p37

QUALITY AND THE LAW

Blueprint for reform? Jan p49
Needed: A new kind of M.E. Feb p45
Coping with professional liability headaches Mar p45
The flowering of self-help remedies Apr p59
Tort reform legislation in perspective May p55
Recalls in a loss prevention strategy June p37
The long arm of product liability July p15
Exporting safety hazards Aug p43
What's the CPSC up to? Sept p65
Warnings: The lesson of football Oct p41
Exorcising the ghost Nov p53
There's more to a design defect than meets the eye Dec p39

THE QUALITY SCENE

The eyes are not where the hands are! Jan p47
Can consumerism survive? Feb p47
MBO and system capability Mar p43
Safety engineering and the Murphy effect Apr p57
Go tell the Spartans! May p57
The forgotten sampling plan June p39
"The Book of Lists" July p21
On the line with the inspector Aug p45
The ghost at the conference Sept p63
A system for all seasons Oct p39
Quality: The dependent variable? Nov p51
B.F. Skinner and the quality manager Dec p41

MANAGEMENT VIEWPOINT

Opening channels of communication Jan p51
Promotion policies: Well-guarded secrets? Mar p47
Employee resistance to change May p59
From theory to practice July p23
Managing conflict Sept p67
Wanted: Activist managers Dec p43

METRIC MEMO

Relax and enjoy it Feb p49
Desire makes the difference Apr p61
Lingering doubt June p41
Controversy cools Aug p47
Dying embers Nov p55
